WOMAN KIDNAPPED FROM GOLF LINKS BY HER HUSBAND

Prominent Cincinnati Woman Is Taken From Friends on Golf Course by Her Husband and Helpers—Found in Indiana.

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 17.—Employing caveman methods in an effort to effect a reconciliation with his wife, Mrs. Clara Marshall, Albert H. Marshall, proprietor of the Toadstool Inn and the Grand Dansant, accompanied by three men, swooped down on Mrs. Marshall while she was playing golf on the course at the Maketewah Country Club yesterday and carried her away in an automobile.

Mrs. Marshall had been missing for more than ten hours when she telephoned to the home of her father, William Schawe, Treasurer of the Krippepord-Dittman Shoe Company, 995 Lenox place, at 9 o'clock last night, and told her brother, William Schawe, Jr., that she was at a farm house in Magnesia Springs, near Brooksville, Ind. She said that she had been kidnapped by her husband, whom she is suing for divorce, and that he had put her out of his automobile at Magnesia Springs.

As soon as the brother received the message he telephoned to the office of Froome Morris, attorney, where his father, Mr. Morris, and Paul Ryan and Oris Slater of the Crim & Ryan Detective Bureau were planning a country-wide search for the missing woman.

When Mr. Morris got into communication with Mrs. Marshall on the telephone she told him that she had fought her husband until she fainted. She said that her clothing was torn and that there were blood stains on a white shirtwaist which formed part of the golf habit she was wearing when her husband kidnapped her.

It was several hours after she had fainted and been revived by her husband that Marshall and the three men who accompanied her put her out of her automobile and fled. Mrs. Marshall said. She told Mr. Morris that she was too weak to remember in which direction her husband had driven his automobile after leaving her.

TENT REVIVAL CONTINUES TO INCREASE IN INTEREST

Revivalist Preaching Strong Sermons—Musical Program of Tent Meeting Proving Big Feature.

"That Hidden Sin," was the subject of Evangelist Howard's sermon Friday night. His text was taken from Proverbs 28:13: "He that covereth his sin shall not prosper, but whosoever shall confess his sins, shall have mercy." He divided the text thus:

- (1) Sins covered; (2) Sins confessed; (3) Sins forsaken; (4) mercy obtained. He said in part: "Although you may think you have your sin hidden, God will not let it go unpunished. God says 'The wages of sin is death.' 'Be sure your sin will find you out.' There is no prosperity in sin, and there is embarrassment in a life of sin. The reason why God can't bless folks here tonight is because there is sin in the camp. Sin will get into a nation, and down will go the nation; and if it gets in a community, down will go that community. It prevails in many churches today. We do not want to do away with the church, but we want to fight sin in the church."

"But there is mercy for any man who repents of his sin and forsakes them. If we confess our sin God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

Special music, both vocal and instrumental, on Saturday and Sunday evenings. Sermon by Rev. Howard. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be a service held at the tent, which will be for the benefit of men only. All the men are invited. At the same hour there will be a special meeting for women held at the Little Brick church on East Second street. All the women are cordially invited.

SALVATION ARMY FUND CAMPAIGN TO OPEN ON TUESDAY

Authorized Official of Salvation Army To Handle Campaign Here—Wages War on Imposters Who Visit Here.

The Salvation Army will open a campaign here within the next few days for funds. The campaign will be in charge of Colonel Charles Mohr, for many year connected with the Cincinnati Enquirer and one who knows just what the Salvation Army has done for the unfortunate.

"I am going to start the Salvation Army Home Service Fund Appeal next Tuesday," said Charles Mohr, of Covington. "I want the citizens to know the appeal is for the 'real Salvation Army' who make but one appeal yearly. The appeal will be from house to house. The money donated will be deposited in Maysville and will stay in Kentucky for the poor, nurseries and betrayed women, etc."

The appeal will be highly endorsed, showing beyond any doubt that it is for a worthy cause. So that the citizens will know to whom they are giving.

"I have found the Maysville people 'oyal,'" said the campaigner. "I am going to have an interview with the Mayor and Chief of Police about imposters who are taking advantage of the Salvation Army and I feel sure it will be taken up. The cause is a most worthy one and no one should turn down the Army. We may need them in Maysville as no place is immune from floods, fires, cyclones, and the Army will respond like it did during the war. So help the appeal. Give 'hat you can.'"

STEALING EXAMINATION QUESTIONS INVESTIGATED.

Richmond, Ky., June 16.—Examinations were held today, and will be tomorrow, at the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, but eight student-teachers arrested for the sale of questions, are barred. New questions were used today.

Confessions regarding the fraudulent possession and sale of questions which would eliminate all chance of failing to pass the examination, have been obtained, but there is much yet to be brought to light, George Colvin Superintendent of Public Instruction, declared tonight.

"An investigation will expose persons well known in the state" he declared, "as well as sensational facts. There is a ring which traffics in the sale of questions to persons who plan to take examinations."
